Methodology

WPAi conducted a poll of n = 500 likely November voters in Montana. Interviews were conducted by live telephone interviewers August 9-11, 2020; 50% of the interviews were conducted to cellphones and 50% to landline phones. The sample was selected from the Montana voter file and stratified by age, educational attainment, gender, geography, and modeled partisanship to ensure accurate representation of the electorate. The poll has a margin of error of $\pm 4.4\%$
